

NAREH ARGHAMANYAN

Highly acclaimed for her unique style, colourful tone and dazzling virtuosity, Nareh Arghamanyan is one of the promising talents of her generation. Having given debuts with orchestras such as Vienna Symphony, City of Birmingham Symphony Orchestra, Tonhalleorchester Zurich, hr-Sinfonieorchester Frankfurt, NDR Sinfonieorchester Hamburg, Rundfunk-Sinfonieorchester Berlin, Orchestre Philharmonique de Strasbourg and Orchestre Philharmonique de Monte-Carlo, RTÉ Dublin, Hong Kong Sinfonietta, Vancouver and Utah Symphonies, she also regularly performs at prestigious venues such as the Wigmore Hall, Philharmonie Berlin, Laieszhalle Hamburg, Herkulesaal Munich, Konzerthaus Vienna, Musikverein Vienna, Piano Festival Lucerne, Lincoln Centre New York, Kimmel Centre Philadelphia and Gardner Museum Boston.

Following a highly successful debut at the Goldener Saal of Vienna's prestigious Musikverein with the Radio-Symphonieorchester Vienna, Nareh Arghamanyan gave her Swedish debut playing Prokofiev's popular third piano concerto with the Royal Stockholm Philharmonic Orchestra last season.

In the 2016/17 season she performs with both the Trondheim Symphony and Krzysztof Urbanski as well as Helsingborg Symphony Orchestras under the baton of Stefan Solym for their season opening concerts.

In recital she appears in Lucerne, Sacile, Friedrichshafen, Nottingham, Corvallis and Montreal.

Since September 2016, Nareh holds the title of artist in residence at the Queen Elisabeth Music Chapel, under the direction of Louis Lortie who she appears with at a number of public performances and festivals throughout the season.

Nareh Arghamanyan is a regular guest at international festivals such as the Schleswig-Holstein Musik Festival, Festival de Lanaudière, Marlboro Festival and Singapore Piano Festival. Conductors she works with include

Alain Altinoglu, John Axelrod, Stefan Blunier, Kevin John Edusei, Howard Griffiths, Carl St Clair, Sir Neville Marriner, Michael Sanderling, Kazuki Yamada, Xian Zhang, Jean---Marie Zeitouni and Christoph Poppen. In 2011 she signed an exclusive recording contract with Pentatone releasing a CD of solo works by Rachmaninov and a disc featuring the Liszt concertos, recorded with the Rundfunk---Sinfonieorchester Berlin and Alain Altinoglu (2012).

Her latest recording includes the piano concerto by Khachaturian as well as Prokofiev's third piano concerto.

Born in Armenia in 1989, she studied with Alexander Gurgenov at the Tchaikovsky Music School for Talented Children in Yerevan and became the youngest student to be admitted to the University for Music and Performing Arts Vienna, where she studied with Heinz Medjimorec and chamber music with Avedis Kouyoumdjan.

She studied with Arie Vardi in Hannover and is a laureate of many international piano competitions including first prize winner at the 2008 Montréal International Music Competition, 2007 Piano Campus International Competition in Pontoise as well as the 2005 Josef Dichler Piano Competition Vienna.

Since the 2015/16 season Nareh is a Bösendorfer Artist